

Technical Documentation

This is a responsive HTML5 template built with bootstrap, jquery and javascript to provide you and your business an amazing web experience.

After decompressing the zip, you will find the basic folder layout for a web template. Please make sure that the file index.html is located in the same level directory as the folders assets, css, img, etc.

The template should work, per se.

The available example should be self-explanatory.